Academic Advising Manual

This is your College of Education and Human Development Academic Advising Manual. It is written in an effort to provide valuable support and information to student advisees, faculty advisors, and Advising Center advisors. Your Advising Manual will enhance the University Catalog and other sources of information. You should print the Advising Manual and take a copy with you to all your advising sessions with your advisor.

Information in the manual includes:

- Advisor/advisee roles and responsibilities
- Progress sheets for every program in the College
- List of General Education courses
- Professional dispositions, characteristics, and behaviors
- Selected academic policies
- Graduation information

Academic advising is a shared responsibility and requires interaction and communication between the student advisee and the academic advisor. An advisor is a consultant, a mentor, a guide, a specialist, a professional, and a knowledgeable resource. Advisors are good listeners and want to enable student advisees to become critical thinkers, good decision makers, and strong self-advocates.

Student advisees should be prepared when meeting with any advisor. Therefore, the student must assume responsibility to help ensure the advisee/advisor relationship is positive, beneficial, and desired outcomes are achieved.

Here are some suggestions for preparing for an advising session:

- Call or email your academic advisor and schedule a specific appointment time;
- Be aware of the fact that you and your advisor have busy schedules and if unable to keep an appointment, be considerate and contact the advisor to cancel and reschedule;
- Generate a written list of questions or concerns related to academic policies and program requirements;
- Format a tentative plan for completing degree requirements;
- Be informed regarding testing requirements for your (advisee's) specific program;
- Make a list of courses you will need for the upcoming semester and complete a "Tentative Schedule of Classes" form that can be picked up in the Advising Center;
- After thinking about your internship and/or field work requirements, talk about placements, the application process, expectations, requirements, and time constraints; and
- Use the advising session as an opportunity to get to know your advisor through this one-on-one academic relationship.

An academic advisor will be a strong supporter and will help the advisee navigate the challenges of achieving academic success.

RADFORD UNIVERSITY

PROGRAM OF STUDY

All undergraduate students at Radford complete an essentially similar overall program of study. To earn an undergraduate degree from Radford University, all students must fulfill three sets of complementary requirements: general education requirements, major requirements, and requirements associated with the student's specific degree option. In addition, students must earn enough credit hours in elective courses to complete the minimum number of overall semester hours required for graduation. As part of their academic programs, many students take advantage of experiential learning opportunities that include study abroad, internships, clinical work, service learning, and many other ways to "learn while doing." Almost all programs in the College of Education and Human Development require practica, field work, internships, or student teaching.

In designing these requirements, the faculty at Radford have made every effort to develop an overall academic program that is cohesive and purposeful. In other words, the expectation is that students do more than successfully complete a collection of unrelated courses. Rather, faculty want students to graduate with carefully thought-out and well-integrated programs of study that will provide them with the skills, knowledge, and perspectives they will need to be successful in their careers and to live productive and meaningful lives.

General Education Requirements (50 hours)

Courses designated as fulfilling general education requirements provide the strong liberal arts foundation upon which the remainder of the student's academic program rests. While students are expected to complete course work in eight broad areas of study, they typically have considerable latitude in course selection within the majority of these areas. Some majors demonstrate the interrelatedness of the general education and major curricula by encouraging students to meet program requirements through passing specific general education courses. For example, elementary education students are required to take United States History, and they are advised to use this course to partially fulfill their general education social and behavioral science requirement.

Major Requirements (30-105 hours)

A major represents the student's principal field of study. Within each discipline, faculty have established a curriculum that must be successfully completed by majors. For example, students in exercise, sport, and health education complete a core curriculum identified as "ESHE Foundations."

Degree Requirements (6-12 hours)

A degree represents both the academic level of a program (e.g., Radford's undergraduate students will earn a Bachelor's degree) and the general category into which it falls (Arts, Science, Business Administration, etc.). At Radford, the term "Arts" implies a language requirement; thus, students earning a Bachelor of Arts degree will have completed 6-12 hours of a single foreign language, with the precise amount of language required for the B.A. determined by the student's foreign language background. Courses meeting requirements in other categories (e.g., Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Fine Arts, etc.) are chosen by the faculty in specific colleges or majors. Such courses are designed to both complement and supplement the major requirements.

Electives (0-34 hours)

All students graduating from Radford must pass a minimum of 120 semester hours. (A few majors require more than 120.) While students in certain tightly-constructed majors have no elective courses, most students will need to take courses in addition to those meeting the requirements listed above to reach the 120 hour minimum. Theoretically, these courses may be taken in any discipline; electives offer students the opportunity to explore a variety of unfamiliar academic disciplines to broaden their intellectual horizons.

However, many students opt to structure their elective courses into a minor-a secondary field of study consisting of 15-24 hours designated by a discipline-or (if possible) a second major. Choosing a minor to complement the major is an excellent way to prepare oneself for a career or graduate studies.

More specific information about Radford's academic programs and policies may be found in the RU Undergraduate Catalog; students should familiarize themselves with this publication. Students' academic advisors and their Advising Centers are available to assist them in making good decisions as they complete program requirements and explore experiential learning opportunities. Indeed, advisors can be invaluable resources as students work to achieve their academic, career and personal goals. However, ultimate responsibility for meeting all stated requirements for the degree rests with the student.

OVERVIEW OF THE RU GENERAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Program Mission

Radford University is committed to the development of mature, responsible, well-educated citizens. In addition to acquiring a diverse body of knowledge, such persons must possess a love of learning and a range of intellectual skills that enable them to meet the challenges and realize the promises of our complex, multi-cultural, ever-changing world. The primary mission of Radford University's General Education Program is to provide undergraduates with a solid foundation for lifelong learning. This foundation includes knowledge, skills, and experiences necessary for advanced study in academic disciplines and for personal growth as responsible, productive members of society.

Program Goals

To fulfill the mission of the General Education Program, the university has designed a 50-hour curriculum with a number of general and specific goals to be met by all undergraduate students.

Upon completion of the General Education Program, students should be able to:

- Think critically and creatively about ideas, issues, problems, and texts both within and across academic disciplines.
- Construct logical and persuasive arguments.
- Employ a variety of research methods and styles of inquiry.
- Use appropriate computer technologies to gather and organize information, to solve problems, and to communicate ideas.
- Work with others in a shared process of inquiry and problem-solving.
- Identify the personal and cultural values that shape decisions in public, professional, and private life, and assess the ethical implications of those decisions.

Knowledge Area Goals

In addition to supporting the six broad program goals, the general education curriculum is designed to ensure that students gain knowledge, abilities, and experiences in eight important areas of study: communication, fine arts, health and wellness, humanities, international and intercultural studies, mathematical sciences, physical and natural sciences, and social and behavioral sciences.

Summary of General Education Requirements

Area 1	Communication	6-9 credit hours
Area 2	Fine Arts	3-6 credit hours
Area 3	Health and Wellness	3 credit hours
Area 4	Humanities	6-9 credit hours
Area 5	International and Intercultural Studies	3-6 credit hours
Area 6	Mathematical Sciences	6 credit hours
Area 7	Physical and Natural Sciences	8 credit hours
Area 8	Social and Behavioral Sciences	12-15 credit hours
Total Credit Hours Required		50 credit hours

Alternative Means of Fulfilling General Education Requirements

Recognizing the diverse backgrounds and educational experiences of its students, Radford University provides a number of alternatives for fulfilling the 50-hour General Education requirement.

Students achieving appropriate scores on College Level Examination Program (CLEP) subject exams or on College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Tests may receive credit toward completion of General Education requirements in specific Knowledge Areas.

Students who can demonstrate that their previous learning experiences are relevant to a particular course approved for General Education credit may choose to earn credit for that course by challenge examination. Individual departments are responsible for determining which courses may be challenged for credit by exam.

Students admitted to Radford University with an Associate's Degree from a Virginia Community College based on a baccalaureate-oriented sequence of courses will be considered to have satisfied the General Education requirement. Community college students completing the Transfer Module will receive credit toward completion of the requirement. For further information on the various options for fulfilling the General Education requirement, students should refer to the appropriate sections of the Undergraduate Catalog and should consult with their academic advisors.

For further information on the Radford University General Education Program, including a list of the courses approved for general education credit, students should consult the current Undergraduate Catalog. The list of approved courses, along with official course syllabi and other program information, is also available on the General Education Program web site at <http://www.runet.edu/~gened>.

College of Education and Human Development Summary of Programs

Athletic Training is offered through the Department of Exercise, Sport and Health Education and is designed to prepare students for careers as certified athletic trainers. Graduates work in positions in high schools, universities, professional and Olympic sports, clinics, hospitals and other sport and/or physical rehabilitation venues. This is a competitive program and requires outstanding academic work by students. We are pleased to announce that this program has recently received national accreditation. See page 15 for the progress sheet.

Commercial/Corporate Fitness is an option under the Sport and Wellness Leadership concentration in the Department of Exercise, Sport and Health Education. This program is designed for students planning to pursue careers of leadership in the fitness industry, primarily in commercial, corporate, community or clinical outlets. Students are encouraged to obtain external certifications and participate in a variety of experiential learning opportunities available at RU. See page 16 for the progress sheet.

Elementary Education (grades PK-6) is one of the teacher licensure programs offered through the School of Teacher Education and Leadership. Students enrolled in this licensure program major in Interdisciplinary Studies. Students receive a broad liberal arts background and develop strong interpersonal skills. The program provides the student with depth and breadth in the many subject areas that are required of elementary school teachers. Unique features of RU's program include the field-based emphasis and the use of small cohorts of students who focus on professional development. This program was awarded "the Innovative Teacher Preparation Program" award from the Southern Regional Association of Teacher Educators. See page 27 for the progress sheet.

Exercise and Sport Studies option is designed to provide students with a broad-based background in the exercise and sport sciences. The program, offered through the Exercise, Sport and Health Education Department, offers students an opportunity to target their studies toward an area of interest such as coaching, administration, or exercise leadership. Many students in this program intend to seek graduate studies in their specific area of interest. A program progress sheet can be found on pages 21 and 22. See department for more details about selecting cognates.

Health Education and Health Promotion concentration is designed for students who wish to work to promote, maintain, or improve the health of individuals, communities, and the nation. There is currently an increased demand for qualified health professionals to help individuals and communities improve their health. This degree will qualify students to take the Certified Health Education Specialist (C.H.E.S.) examination, the standard credentialing examination for health professionals. This concentration prepares students to become entry-level health professionals in a variety of settings. It also prepares students for graduate study in health education, health promotion, or public health. See page 17 for progress sheet.

High School teachers are prepared collaboratively through academic departments on campus and the School of Teacher Education and Leadership. The students major in the content area they wish to teach. Areas available through RU are biology, chemistry, English, mathematics, earth and space science, and history/social science. In addition, RU offers K-12 licensure programs in art, music, physical/health education, and special education. See specific departments for details.

Physical and Health Education (teaching, grades K-12) is offered through the Department of Exercise, Sport and Health Education. Graduates obtain positions in public and private schools or community-based physical activity programs. The teaching license is often supplemented with positions in athletic coaching, driver's education, or intramural directors. See page 18 for the progress sheet.

Middle School Education is offered through the School of Teacher Education and Leadership. Students wishing to obtain teacher licensure for middle school education (grades 6-8) will major in Interdisciplinary Studies. Students receive a broad liberal arts background and develop strong interpersonal skills. The program provides the student with depth and breadth in many subject areas that are required of middle school teachers as well as two primary concentrations. Unique features of RU's program include the field-based emphasis and the use of small cohorts of students who focus on professional development. Students are actively involved in the classroom and in after school activities offered through the middle school. Some of the professional education courses are held at the middle school. See page 28 for the progress sheet.

Special Education offers three programs leading to a Virginia teaching license. Students wishing to work with very young children and exceptional young children can pursue a dual licensure program for Early Childhood Education (PreK-3)/Early Childhood Special Education (birth-Age 5). This program requires both a bachelor's and master's degree to complete licensure requirements. See pages 29-31 for the progress sheets.

Another program available is special education/high incidence for grades K-12. Students completing this program must earn both a bachelor's and master's degree to complete licensure requirements. Graduates of the program will have three endorsements: emotional/behavioral disabilities, learning disabilities, and mental retardation.

Students can pursue a special education undergraduate program focusing on the deaf and hard of hearing. This is a collaborative program between the Special Education Department and the Waldron College of Health and Human Services' Communication Sciences and Disorders Department.

Sport Administration is offered through the Department of Exercise, Sport, and Health Education. This option, under the Sport and Wellness Leadership concentration, is designed for students pursuing careers of leadership in the sport industry. Management and administrative positions are currently high-growth areas. Graduates of this program find positions in private sport and fitness clubs, recreation departments, YMCA's, high schools, community, college, and professional sport organizations, sports promotions and marketing firms, sporting goods businesses, and sport camps. See page 19 for the progress sheet.

Sports Medicine, offered through the Department of Exercise, Sport, and Health Education through the Exercise and Sport Science Concentration, prepares student to enter disciplines such as physical therapy, exercise physiology, cardiac rehabilitation, or other advanced programs in physical rehabilitation. Some students use this program as a springboard to advanced study in the exercise sciences (graduate degrees) or in specified career areas such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, or chiropractic schools. See page 20 for the progress sheet.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

EXERCISE, SPORT, AND HEALTH EDUCATION

Building Physically Active and Healthy Lifestyles...One Person at a Time

The Department of Exercise, Sport, and Health Education at Radford University maintains that a physically active and healthy lifestyle is central to an institution's educational mission and an integral aspect of an individual's overall growth, health, development and well being. As scientific and empirical evidence mounts in support of the role of physical activity in personal health, the department considers a physically active lifestyle to be a person's best health insurance.

The Department of Exercise, Sport, and Health Education endeavors to provide equitable opportunities for all individuals to develop the skills, knowledge and attitudes to maintain optimal levels of lifelong personal health and physical activity. The department's academic programs prepare individuals for leadership roles in a wide variety of school, clinical, and community-based physical activity, sport, fitness, and health programs.

Through strong academic programs, community and school outreach, and applied research-to-practice, the Department of Exercise, Sport, and Health Education at Radford University strives to lead in the promotion of healthy lifestyles. The department aims to not only enhance the preparation of its future professionals, but also to benefit the entire student body at Radford University, the surrounding schools and community, and the Commonwealth. The Department's collective efforts provide strong leadership in the development and maintenance of physically active and healthy lifestyles...one person at a time.

*ESHE 391 is the pre-requisite for several courses, however if you have taken ESHE 390 and 392 those will count as the pre-req.

You can always do more than required, not less.

As a student choosing ESS you must be aware of course offerings and plan your schedules accordingly. There are several courses that are often taught in summer that were not listed as summer because it does not apply every summer. The following courses are: ESHE 305, ESHE 350, and ESHE 388

If you are choosing the Sport Administration Cognate please know we have no control over courses offered in any aspect of Business or Communication, plan ahead in choosing when to take those courses. In addition, you have nearly enough elective hours to complete a minor in business or communication – now is the time to consider that option and plan for it. The idea is to make yourself as marketable as possible.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

The Interdisciplinary Studies major provides a strong liberal arts foundation and concentrations in two academic areas. The Interdisciplinary Studies major is offered through the College of Arts and Sciences with a professional education option for students seeking to teach elementary education (grades PK-6), middle education (grades 6-8), special education (Mental Retardation, grades K-12) or Early Childhood (PK-3)/Early Childhood Special Education (birth-age 5). The professional education option is discussed in detail in the following information. A non-teaching option is also available; contact the College of Arts and Sciences at 540-831-5149 for more information on this option.

The Interdisciplinary Studies major, professional education option, varies from 126 hours to 128 semester hours depending on specific area of teacher licensure. The four-year degree program contains course work consisting of extensive general education requirements, a broad base of preparation in the liberal arts and two specific areas of concentration. An increased emphasis on clinical experiences throughout the four-year program will be required for students who seek teacher licensure.

Elementary Education: Unique features of Radford's program include its year-long field-based emphasis and the use of small cohorts of fifteen to twenty students focused upon professional development. The core of the program consists of two intense semesters of working in classrooms integrated with campus courses and professional development seminars. University and school faculty work closely to integrate university courses with work in the classroom. The program was awarded the Innovative Teacher Preparation Program award from the Southern Regional Association of Teacher Educators.

Middle Education: Becoming a middle school teacher provides an opportunity to impact and challenge students in grades 6-8. Effective teaching begins with knowledge and appreciation of early adolescent development. Collaborating within a team allows the teacher to create a learning community that connects students and parents with the school and communicate caring and high expectations. In addition to having a strong background in at least two content areas, the teacher plans and implements interdisciplinary instruction. Duties of the middle school educator include being able to develop appropriate relationships with students, plan and implement relevant instruction, assess student progress, and work collaboratively with parents, teachers, administrators and students to ensure success.

Special Education: At the undergraduate level, the School provides both pre-licensure options and licensure programs through the Interdisciplinary Studies Degree (IDS). Students seeking to teach in Special Education major in IDS and select one of the following specialty area options:

- Early Childhood/Early Childhood Special Education (IDEC, a 4-year pre-licensure option with a 5th year leading to licensure)

- Deaf and Hard of Hearing (IDHH, a 4-year licensure program)
- High Incidence Disabilities-Emotional Disorders, Learning Disabilities, and Mental Retardation (IDHI, a 4-year pre-licensure option with a 5th year leading to licensure)

The School also offers a minor in special education and a concentration in the IDS degree. The concentration provides a common set of knowledge and skills for elementary school teachers who will have special students in their classrooms. It is not designed for special education licensure.

The minor in special education provides an opportunity for undergraduate students at Radford University to acquire professional knowledge related to understanding and assisting individuals with disabilities. It includes a focus on educationally relevant disability law and policy, characteristics and etiology of disabilities, and special education programming and services.

Career opportunities available to graduates of the Interdisciplinary Studies degree include positions as early intervention specialists and preschool, elementary and secondary teachers of students with disabilities. Graduates may be employed in public or private schools, hospitals, institutions, and in student's homes.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

AND

OTHER IMPORTANT “STUFF”

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Each student is ultimately responsible for meeting the requirements of his or her academic program. Academic advising can provide opportunities for students to discuss academic progress and goals with a staff or faculty member in the student's department and/or college.

Academic advising is a shared responsibility.

Academic advising is a continuous process of clarification and evaluation of your progress toward your goals. You, the student, are the catalyst for your own academic success because you have the responsibility for making decisions about your life goals and educational plans.

The primary purpose of academic advising is to assist you in developing meaningful educational plans that are compatible with your life goals. Successful academic advising occurs when you and your advisor work together as partners in a relationship that focuses on collaboration and shared responsibility.

In addition to your academic advisor, you have another resource available: the Center for Academic Advising and Student Support. Staff in the Center can help you with:

- grade point average calculations,
- clarification of policies and procedures,
- graduation checkouts,
- transfer approval of courses,
- appropriate referrals,
- withdrawing from a class,
- completing academic petitions and more.

It is important to recognize that academic advising is more than selecting courses for an upcoming semester or making a plan to follow to graduate. It is vital that you, the student, be an active participant in the advising partnership. Both parties of the partnership should have specified expectations of the other partner.

Your Academic Advisor

Your advisor will listen and respond to your interests and concerns; respect you as an individual; be reasonably accessible; know policies and procedures for the university and your degree program; know where to find valuable information and make appropriate referrals for student support services; and provide guidance and assistance with your academic, career and life goals.

You, the Advisee

It is your responsibility to: initiate and maintain contact with your advisor; discuss situations and issues that affect your academic performance (such as work and family commitments); learn basic university, college and departmental requirements, policies and procedures and to accept your responsibility for meeting and abiding by them; and seek assistance when you need it.

Some Advice

Your academic advising session will more smoothly and be more informative and rewarding if you follow some simple tips:

- be familiar with your program
- have a list of questions you want to ask or concerns you would like to have addressed
- remind your advisor of the issues you discussed during your last appointment
- be candid; tell your advisor about things that are affecting your ability to do your best course work

The Center for Academic Advising and Student Support

The College of Education and Human Development has developed a strong support system for all students. Support is available in the center that is located in Peters Hall, Room A104. You may contact the Center for Academic Advising and Student Support at 831-5424 or by e-mail: ed-adv@runet.edu.

The advisors in the Center recommend the following “tips for success:”

- Talk to your professors and advisors about ways your course work is relevant to your needs, interests, and goals.
- Make every effort to interact with faculty. Make an appointment with each faculty member and be prepared with a few questions to help get the conversation going. You will feel more comfortable in and connected with your classes if you do this.
- Get to know others in your classes. Join study groups even if it is not your favorite way to study. It will help you connect with other learners and benefit from their perspectives.
- Learn about the student support services that are available on campus, where they are located, and make good use of them.
- Set up a daily schedule and stick to it.
- Don't procrastinate; use your time wisely.
- Attend all classes; you can't help but learn something just from being in class every meeting.
- Know about the services your University library offers; know how to make the most of the library.
- Take your health seriously, eat appropriately, exercise, and get plenty of rest.
- If you can't avoid stress, learn techniques to deal with it.
- Enjoy your time as a college student; study hard, be an active participant in your education, and get involved through clubs and organizations.

Get to know your advisor; build a strong academic relationship; this will be a rewarding experience for you and your advisor.

ACCEPTING YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

All students in the College of Education and Human Development are required to sign the following form. Your advisor will have you read and sign this at your first academic advising session.

Radford University
College of Education and Human Development
Center for Academic Advising and Student Support
STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES IN THE ACADEMIC ADVISING PROCESS

Academic advising is a “shared responsibility.” It is vital that both the student advisee and the academic advisor take active roles in the process. As indicated in each edition of the RU undergraduate catalog, “Ultimate responsibility for meeting all stated requirements for the degree rests with the student.” Your academic advisor will provide information on matters related to your program of studies and will provide aid in the clarification of policies and procedures. The staff in the Center for Academic Advising and Student Support is available to provide support, answer questions, make appropriate referrals, and provide guidance relating to university and program policies and procedures as you pursue your academic goals.

You are expected to:

- Be familiar with your degree program requirements;
- Be familiar with University and program policies including deadlines;
- Read the e-mail you receive from College and University representatives;
- Use the student information system to stay up to date on your progress;
- Keep copies of all important documents related to completion of your degree program;
- Contact your advisor to schedule an appointment to discuss your program, your academic goals, your career goals, and becoming a professional;
- Notify your advisor if you are unable to keep a scheduled appointment so the advisor can use that time to meet with another advisee, update files, work on class preparation, grade papers, etc.;
- Come to your advising session with written questions in hand;
- Come to your advising session with a tentative plan for the upcoming semester and remaining semesters for completing your program of studies; and
- Accept your responsibilities – this is your academic career and you are the one who will make the decisions regarding how you complete program requirements.

Academic advisors want you, the student, to be successful and to be a well informed consumer. Being prepared for an advising session will contribute to a more positive relationship with your advisor.

Please ask if you have questions about these responsibilities. Please print and sign your name below to indicate that you have received a copy of this information for your records and that you have read the information.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The following information has been copied with permission from the Radford University Registrar's Webpage. For more information, please visit the website at:

http://www.radford.edu/~registra/FERPA/FERPA_explanation.htm

FERPA for Faculty, Staff, and Students
Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

What is FERPA?

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, also known as the Buckley Amendment, helps protect the privacy of student records. The Act provides for the right to inspect and review educational records, to seek to amend those records, and to limit disclosure of information from the records. The Act applies to all institutions that are the recipients of federal funding.

Who is Protected Under FERPA?

Students who are currently enrolled or formerly enrolled, regardless of their age or parental dependency status. FERPA does not apply to deceased students or persons who have applied but have not attended.

What are Educational Records?

With certain exceptions, an educational record is:

- a. any record from which a student can be personally identified, and
- b. maintained by Radford University or an authorized party.

Educational records include any records in the possession of an employee that are shared with or accessible to another individual. The records may be handwritten, print, magnetic tape, film, diskette, or some other medium. A student has the right to access these records. FERPA does not require that certain records be kept, but addresses the rights of the student. State regulations, accreditation guidelines and/or institutional policy determine the specific archiving needs of each institution.

What is Not Included in an Educational Record?

- a. sole possession records or private notes held by educational personnel which are not accessible or released to other personnel
- b. law enforcement or campus security records which are solely for law enforcement purposes
- c. records relating to individuals who are employed by the institution (unless employment is contingent upon school attendance)
- d. records relating to treatment provided by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, or other recognized professional or paraprofessional and disclosed only to individuals providing treatment
- e. records of an institution that contain only information about an individual obtained after that person is no longer a student at that institution (i.e., alumni records).

What is Directory Information?

Institutions may disclose information on a student without violating FERPA if it has designated the information as “directory information.” At RU, this includes (as defined by the Student Handbook):

- a. student name, address, telephone and e-mail address
- b. major field of study
- c. participation in officially recognized activities & sports
- d. dates of attendance, degrees, and awards received

Students must be notified annually of what constitutes directory information. Students may, if they desire, request that directory information not be released. Such a request must be submitted in writing to the Registrar Office within the first two weeks of each term.

Posting of Grades by Faculty

The public posting of grades either by the student’s name, social security number or id without the student’s written permission is a violation of FERPA. This includes the posting of grades to a class website and applies to any public posting of grades for students taking distance education courses.

Instructors and others who post grades should use a system that ensures that FERPA requirements are met. This can be accomplished either by obtaining the student's written permission or by using code words or randomly assigned numbers that only the instructor and individual student know.

Notification of grades via a postcard violates a student's privacy rights.

Notification of grades via personal e-mail accounts is not recommended. Radford University provides a secure web application for students to view their academic record and we encourage students to utilize this feature.

Special Tips for Faculty

To avoid violations of FERPA, please DO NOT:

- at any time use the entire Social Security or ID Number of a student in a public posting for grades
- ever link the name of a student with that student's social security or id number in any public manner
- leave graded tests in a stack for students to pick up by sorting through the papers of all students
- circulate a printed class list with student name and social security number or grades as an attendance roster
- discuss the progress of any student with anyone other than the student (including parents) without the consent of the student
- provide anyone with lists of students enrolled in your classes for any commercial purpose
- provide anyone with student schedules or assist anyone other than university employees in finding a student on campus

Remember - it is everyone's responsibility to maintain the confidentiality of student records, whether you are faculty, staff or student. If you are unsure whether you should release information - then don't. Please call the Registrar's Office for any needed clarification.

SELECTED ACADEMIC POLICIES

For a complete list of academic policies, see the Radford University Undergraduate Catalog. The policies that follow are the ones that affect students most often. Policies have been copied from the Radford University Undergraduate Catalog.

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE STUDENT

The student must become familiar with the academic policies, curriculum requirements and associated deadlines as outlined in this catalog, whether hard copy or posted to the university web site. The academic advisor will advise the student on all matters related to their program of study and will aid the student in the interpretation of policies whenever necessary. However, it is ultimately the student's responsibility for meeting all stated requirements for the degree and the policies related thereof. It is also the student's responsibility to actively utilize their campus e-mail and the university web site as it tends to be a major communication resource and is often our primary form of communication with our students.

GRADES AND CREDIT

Grading System

A is given for excellent work.

B is given for work that is distinctly above average.

C indicates work of average quality.

D is given for work of below average quality and is the lowest passing grade at the undergraduate level.

F indicates failure and means the class must be taken again with a passing grade before credit is awarded .

AU indicates the student audited the course.

I indicates work is incomplete.

I P indicates the course is in progress.

NR indicates no grade was recorded by instructor (for temporary administrative use only)

P indicates passed with satisfactory work of "C" or better.

W indicates a student withdrew, without penalty, from the course after schedule adjustment but before the end of the twelfth week and that no credit was obtained.

REPETITION OF COURSES

The Repetition of Courses policy allows students to improve their grade point average. All courses completed and the grades earned will remain on the student's transcript. This policy applies only to the repetition of courses taken at Radford University.

Repeat Courses – The first three (3) times in which a student re-enrolls in any course(s) already attempted will be designated as “repeats.” Within the three repeat limit, a student may repeat as many as three different courses, or the same course may be repeated as many as three times. Repeating the same course more than once shall be considered multiple repeats. For example, if a student fails his/her first attempt at SOCY 110 and then repeats the course, this constitutes one repeat, regardless of whether or not the student passes the course. If a student registers for the same class for a third time, this constitutes the use of a second repeat. The student would have only one remaining repeat opportunity. Repeat courses are subject to the following conditions:

- a. The grade earned in the Repeat Course will replace the original grade in the course repeated.
- b. If the student receives a lower grade while attempting a repeat, the most recent grade will count in calculating the student's GPA. If a student repeats a course in which he or she received a passing grade and fails the repeat course, the credit earned previously will remain but both the original and repeat grades will be calculated.
- c. Additional credit hours will not be awarded unless the course grade was "F. "
- d. If the third Repeat Course is taken in a semester or summer session in which one or more other courses are being retaken, the student will be asked by the Registrar's Office to identify the course to be treated as the third repeat. If the student does not respond to this request, the Repeat Course will be the one in which the grade earned most improves the student's Cumulative grade point average. Other courses being retaken will be counted as explained below.

Retake Courses – Courses in which a student re-enrolls after the three repeat courses have been designated are subject to the following conditions:

- a. Unless otherwise stipulated by departmental requirements, there is no limit on the number of courses that may be retaken, or on the number of times a particular course may be retaken.
- b. Additional credit hours for the courses retaken will not be awarded unless the original grade was "F. "
- c. The grade(s) earned in the retaken course(s) will be averaged with the original grade(s).
- d. Unless a course may be taken for credit more than once, a student may not retake a course in which the original grade was "A".

TRANSFER CREDIT

Students wishing to transfer credit to Radford University, after earning that credit as a transient student at another institution, must complete the form, Radford University Permission to Take Courses for Transfer Credit (AA 21), and must furnish the university with an official transcript after completing the course work. For the transcript to be considered official, it must be sent directly from the issuing institution to the Registrar's Office at Radford. No courses with a grade of "C-" or lower will be considered for transfer. Accepted transfer work may satisfy certain course requirements but the grades are not used in computing the Radford grade point average, and the Radford repeat policy may not be applied.

CLASS STANDING

The class standing of a student is determined at the beginning of each semester and will not be changed during that semester. Any student with 26 semester hours of credit will be classified as a sophomore, 56 semester hours of credit as a junior, and 86 hours of credit as a senior.

DEAN'S LIST

Students will be placed on the Dean's List for a given semester if they:

- have 12 semester hours graded A-F; and
- obtained a grade point average of at least 3.4 for the courses not graded on a pass-fail basis; and

- obtained no grade below a “C”; and
- have no incomplete “I” grades.

WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

Withdrawal from one or more but not all courses:

The student must secure a withdrawal slip from the Registrar’s Office, have it signed by the instructor of the course from which he/she is withdrawing and by the student’s academic advisor, and then return all copies to the Registrar’s Office. The withdrawal is not complete until the signed slip has been returned to the Registrar’s Office. If a full-time student withdraws from all classes, but at different times during a given fall or spring semester, the individual withdrawals are changed to a University Withdrawal.

Students must contact the Student Accounts Office in Walker Hall to initiate a request for a refund of tuition if they drop a class or classes prior to the census date and if the reduced class load qualifies them for a tuition refund. A student who drops a class prior to the conclusion of schedule adjustment will receive no grade. A student who withdraws from class after schedule adjustment but before the end of the 12th week of the semester (or 80% of a Summer Session) will receive a grade of “W.” A student who withdraws from class after the 12th week of the semester (or 80% of Summer Session) will receive a grade of “F.” A student may not withdraw from more than five classes during the course of undergraduate studies at Radford University. After a student has withdrawn from five classes, any subsequent withdrawal will result automatically in a grade of “F.” Withdrawals from classes prior to Fall Semester 1988, courses dropped during schedule adjustment, or withdrawal from all classes at the university do not enter the five-class withdrawal limitation.

Withdrawal from all courses:

After reading this policy in the catalog, go to the Academic Advising and Student Support Center in Peters A104 for more information and assistance with this process.

ACADEMIC PROBATION AND SUSPENSION

Academic performance is measured by grade points and grade point averages (GPA). Each student must maintain a specified grade point average to remain in good standing and to prevent being placed on academic probation or being suspended for academic reasons. Students are urged to confer regularly with their advisors to seek assistance in improving academic standing.

Academic Probation

In those cases where academic suspension does not apply (see Academic Suspension policy), a student will be on academic probation at the conclusion of any semester or summer session, regardless of the total number of credit hours attempted, in which the student has a cumulative GPA below a 2.0. (Note: The minimum grade point average required for graduation from Radford is 2.0. Some majors require a higher GPA for graduation.) Academic probation is an indication of serious academic deficiency and may lead to academic suspension. A student on academic probation may not carry more than 16 semester hours during a regular academic year semester.

ACADEMIC SUSPENSION

New Student Policy

Any new (freshman or transfer), full-time (as of Census date) student who has a GPA below a 1.25 at the conclusion of the first semester of enrollment will be suspended and will not be allowed to continue in the next full semester (Fall or Spring). However, these students can make application to the university for permission to continue. All students who are given permission to continue must participate in a contract based university program (SORTS). Students who choose not to participate in the contract based program may not enroll in the next regularly scheduled academic term but may apply for readmission for a future semester.

Continuing Student Policy

All academic suspensions for continuing students who are enrolled during one or more terms during the year (fall through summer) become effective at the end of the last summer session, regardless of the student's enrollment for that specific term. Academic suspension occurs when such students have attempted a minimum of 30 credits at Radford University and have less than a 2.0 cumulative GPA on all courses taken at Radford University. A continuing student will be informed of his or her impending academic suspension (effective at the end of the last summer session) at the conclusion of any term if the student has less than a 2.0 cumulative GPA and has attempted 30 or more credit hours.

Terms of Suspension

A student suspended for the first time may not enroll in the next regularly scheduled semester. (Please see readmission information [in the catalog].) A student who has been suspended once for academic reasons, is readmitted, and who falls below the suspension threshold for a second time is dismissed from the University. Such a student is permanently ineligible to enroll at Radford in future semesters.

A student on academic suspension from Radford University may receive transfer credit for work taken at another college or university during the period of enforced suspension. To ensure proper credit for any courses taken at another institution, permission must be obtained from the appropriate college dean prior to enrolling in such courses. While courses passed with a grade of "C" or better qualify for transfer ("C-" grades are not acceptable), these grades are not used in computing the Radford grade point average and the Radford repeat policy can not be applied. In order to be eligible for readmission to Radford University, students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher on all work attempted at another college during the term(s) of their suspension. Readmission to the university, however, is never automatic [see the catalog for Readmission information].

Please see your edition of the Radford University Undergraduate Catalog for more information on each of the policies and for additional academic policies.
